

The Big Ten Conference on Black Student Leadership The Ohio State University Call for Programs Proposal Form

The Big Ten Conference on Black Student Leadership is arriving soon at The Ohio State University, in Columbus, OH. The Call for Programs is an opportunity for students, faculty, and staff to present an experience that will encourage growth and development on issues concerning Black Student Leadership. The conference will last three days (January 25-28, 2008) and will host a wide variety of workshops, to be presented on Friday and Saturday. If interested, please submit the proposal form below. The proposal must be emailed by November 9, 2007.

Proposal Requirements

Please attach your program proposal on a separate sheet of paper. A proposal should include the following: Presenter(s) name, address, phone, fax, e-mail, a 100-word abstract that describes the purpose, objectives and nature of the program, outline of the workshop, as well as any other pertinent information. All proposals must be typed. Workshops should be informative, innovative, original, and interactive. It is very important that workshops have different formats to add variety to conference. Please include any past experiences with this workshop if it has been presented before.
